

Font Examples - 15 Fancy Google Fonts

Fifteen free display/script families picked from the fonts.google.com Feeling filters (Expressive: Fancy, Futuristic, Active, Awkward) and Calligraphy filter (Script: Formal). Each block renders in its own font: regular, bold, italic, bold-italic, underline, strikethrough and extra styles.

Fonts are not stored in this repository- install them on your machine and point the converter at them: CLI: `gowkhtmltopdf --font-path font-examples.html out.pdf` · Library: `conv.Global().Set("fontpath", "")` (both Converter and ImageConverter). On this dev machine the fonts are installed in a standard user font folder (`~/local/share/fonts`), so `--use-system-fonts` also finds them.

Engine limits: static TrueType TTFs only (variable fonts and CFF/OTTO are rejected); most of these faces are single-weight, so bold is synthesized for Latin text and italic falls back to the regular face (no italic synthesis); `overline` is unsupported (underline/strikethrough are fine). Tangerine ships a real Bold face.

How to get these fonts: fonts.google.com → Feeling / Calligraphy filters, download each family, unzip, and pass the folder to

--font-path (repeatable) or --use-system-fonts. In Go code: `conv.Global().Set("fontpath", "/abs/path")` on either `Converter` or `ImageConverter`. The engine embeds only the glyphs used (font subsetting), so output stays small. Licenses: 13 families under SIL Open Font License 1.1; Permanent Marker and Luckiest Guy under Apache 2.0.
