Nested HTML header/footer

Body content under a flex HTML header (logo + link) and a placeholder HTML footer. The header is a separate child document laid out into the reserved margin band.

Target section

Fragment destination for the header #target link. Enough prose follows so the page is clearly non-empty under the HF bands.

Line items stay on one page: widget A, widget B, and a closing note for the convert golden runner.

Companion files: fixture-36-header.html, fixture-36-footer.html (wired by the golden runner when present beside this body fixture).
